HATTER GRIDIRON MACHINE CLOSES SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Hatter gridiron machine closed the most successful season it has had in a number of years when it defeated the Rollins Tars 15-7 on Thanksgiving. If the Hatters had not won this game, the season would have ended a season which in many ways was highly satisfactory, but it would also have decreased the joy of the occasion as the Hatters had built all year for the game with the Tars, and felt that they must win that game to make it a highly successful season.

The Tars came here expecting to win the game, and it must be said to their credit that they had a fine machine, but one which was unable to cope with the heavy and fast Hatter aggregation. The Tars were confident of taking the game, and evidently expected to see the Hatter line crumble before their powerful rushes. If they had known what a powerful line the Hatters really had they would not have expected to crash through it with ease. The Tars received the ball at the start putting the ball on the Hatters' 5-yard line. Here, as was expected, the Hatters braced and on three plays the Tars were thrown for a one-yard loss. On the fourth play Emory, the Tars' star, was called in to the backfield, and went round the end for a touchdown. Class for the Tars, kicked goal. This made the Hatters one point behind, and for the people who did not know their fighting spirit, it looked bad.

This meant nothing to the Hatters except to wake them up to the fact that they were against a real team. The Tars kicked off to Stetson. Here the Hatters opened a real offensive and went through the Rollins line for from five to eight yards at a clip. On the 40-yard line the Tars made a stand but the Hatters were able to push on to the thirty-yard line. With less than a minute to play, Covington dropped back for a placement kick ahead never to be headed again. This kick was from the 30-yard line and from a very difficult angle. It brought joy to the heart of every Stetson follower.

Nothing more of interest happened in the first half except an injury to Covey which threatened to upset the whole works for a while.

Covey came back for the second half and with him went the last hope of the Tars. In fact the last hope of the Tars departed when Covey boosted his field or placement kick from the 30-yard line. Soon after the second half opened the Hatters got the ball deep in the Tar territory and soon rushed it to the one-yard line. With four downs to make it in, it seemed certain that the Hatters would make another touchdown. On the first two plays Covey hit the line for no gain. On the third play Covey lost one yard. With only one play left it looked as if the defense of the Tars would prove a Hatter machine held a conference to decide what to do. On the last play Covey took the ball over with his interference going through one side of the line and he going through the other side. Covington's try for goal after touchdown was blocked. This made the score 15-7 in favor of the Hatters, and so it remained.

Tars Spring Trick Plays—

In the fourth quarter the Tars opened up their famous trick plays which they had advertised so much in the state papers as being the plays which were going to lick the Hatters. On the first play, Skidmore, Hatter lineman, threw the Tars for a one-yard loss. On the next play the Tars gained about 25 yards around the end, but were offside and penalized. After this they began to throw forward passes with reckless abandon. Although some came close to being completed, they were not. At last the Tars got away one beautiful pass for 30 yards, which put the ball fairly close to the Hatter goal line. They still continued their passing, however, and Courtney, for the Hatters intercepted one, and with it went the last chance for the Tars to score. After this Whitnell for the Hatters, chose to kick rather than take any chances on a fumble close to his goal or some other slip which would give the Tars a chance to score.

Thus ended the game which brought joy to the hearts of Stetson supporters and sadness to the hearts of the Tars.

Stetson Threatened Rollins Goal Often—

Stetson continually threatened to score during the entire game, but through a stubborn defense were unable to penetrate the Tars line for any more touchdowns. The only threat which the Tars made in the entire game was in the early part of the second quarter when two beautiful runs by Class put the ball inside the Hatters' ten yard line from whence they carried it over for their only score. After this they never came anywhere near the Hatter goal line. The closest which they came was the 20-yard line in the fourth quarter and they remained there only a minute when Stetson got the ball and kicked out of danger. Beside these two times the Tars were hardly inside the Hatters' forty-yard line.

To name the star of the game would be almost impossible, but the line plunging of Covington was a very bright spot. Covey, while not extra large for a good line plunger, can hit the line harder than any man on either team. When the Hatters needed two or three and four yards, they could always depend on Covey to make it for them. It was very seldom that he failed to gain. Whit showed good judgment in calling the plays for his men and had all it all over the Tars when it came to kicking. Besides this he tore off two or three end runs which were beautiful. Courtney was given more chance to carry the ball in this game than he had been given in any other game, and he fully came up to expectations. It was seldom that he failed to gain when given the ball. As for breaking up passes, he cannot be beat. He intercepted two passes against the Tars, and hardly a vor of some of the tactics which this player used, it must be admitted that he put up a good game. He kept the men continually on the jump and full of pep. He has a keen football brain which enables him to tell about where the plays are going and he is always working hard. Emory used some tactics in the early part of the game which we did not admire, but nevertheless, he played a hard game and it is very likely that the score would have been much more than it was if he had not been in the game.

Stetson Hatters vs. S. A. C.—

The Hatters opened the season with the Springfield Athletic club of Jacksonville. The S. A. C. has long made first touchdown on four plays. The Hatters held and Southern kicked. Here Stetson began a rush for the Southern goal line which did not end until Covington went over for the first touchdown. Whit kicked goal, making the score 7-0 in favor of the Hatters. This score came in the first five minutes of play and it seemed that the Hatters could go through the Southern team almost at will. Soon after this the Hatters again started a drive and seemed headed for another touchdown. A slip in the backfield allowed the Southern man to recover the ball and race through an open field for a touchdown. Southern kicked goal, making the score 7-7. From then on it appeared that the Hatters were a beat team. Before this break in the game it had seemed that the Hatters were confident and full of fight. After this it seemed just the other way, Southern had all the fight and the Hatters had none. In the second half Southern baffled the entire Hatter team with a fake play which netted them 40 yards and placed them in a position to score. After a couple of thrusts at the line Gillespie, big Lakeland back, went around the Hatters' end for a touchdown. Lakeland kicked goal, making the score 14-7. With less than five minutes to play, the last quarter, the Hatters began to hit the Lakeland line consistently for gains of from eight to twelve yards. Starting on their own 30-yard line Stetson carried the ball to Southern's 40-yard line in about five plays. This was the only real football which they exhibited in the entire game and showed that the Hatters could do it if they would get together. From the 40-yard line Covey shot a pass to Whit and Whit raced for a touchdown. On the try

Regardless of this, the Hatters expected to give the Southern eleven a thorough licking. Soon after the start of the game the Hatters playing deep in their own territory, fumbled and Gillespie raced for a touchdown for the Southern crew. Gillespie kicked goal making the score 7-0. This did not worry the Hatters, as it had seemed to worry them at Lakeland. They only came back to fight harder. Near the end of the quarter the Hatters got the ball on the three yard line. Cal Stewart went into the Southern lineup to try to stem the tide, but the Hatter machine was not to be denied. On two plays Covington went over for a touchdown. Whit kicked goal making the score 7-7. The first half ended this way. The Methodist crew threatened none at all and only the break in the first half of the game allowed them to score. It was almost a duplicate of the play that allowed them to score at Lakeland. In the second half the Hatters came back with a rush which swept the Southern team off its feet and soon after the half opened the Hatters had carried the ball to the goal line. They were penalized fifteen yards for holding. On the next play which carried the ball back to fifteen yards Southern was penalized to the one-yard line for unnecessary roughness. Whit went over for a touchdown. Whit missed try for goal after touchdown. Score: Stetson 13; Southern 7. In the last quarter Southern opened an aerial attack which was good for a few gains. They seemed to be doing very well with it when Covington, snatched one out of the air and raced forty yards for a touchdown. Covey kicked goal. Score: Stetson, 20; Southern 7. Immediately after this Southern again opened its passing game and Teare intercepted a pass and returned to the 15-yard line. Southern penalized to one yard line for roughness. Stetson went over. Whit kicked goal. Score: Stetson, 27; Southern, 7.

Gators Invade DeLand—

The next game was with the Florida Gators. The Gator came here expecting to use his second team, but soon found out that this was not profitable. Five minutes after the game opened a combined first and second team scored the first touchdown for the Gators. Score: Florida, 7; Stetson 0. Immediately after this the Hatters began to circle the Gator ends with regularity. Court-oof the game and on the first few plays hammered the Hatter line. They really expected to wear the Hatter forwards down in the first few plays but that was not to be the case. After a few plunges at the Hatter line the Tars kicked. Rollins held Stetson and Stetson kicked. Again the Tars started to pile driving line plunges, but they could gain no ground on them. Again they kicked and the Hatters started a march down the field which at last gained them a touchdown. Starting from their own 40-yard line they carried the ball down the field on straight line plunges over tackles and guards to the 20-yard line. Here the Tars braced and the Hatters opened up. On an open play the Tars fell all over themselves trying to cover Whitnell, and in so doing left Captain Goof wide open for a pass. Covey shot the ball to Goof and he received over the line for the Hatters' first score. Whit's try for point after touchdown was low and the score was 6-0. If the Tars had not used the knowledge which they had gained in scouting the Hatters, they might have been able to have prevented the score at that time. In almost every game during the season the same pass had been made to Whitnell. The Tars covered Whit and left Goof open. That is where they came to grief.

HENDERSON (Manager)

Again Stetson kicked off to Rollins and the Tars returned 30 yards. They caught the Hatters asleep or over confident after the easy touchdown they had just made, and on the next two plays went through the Hatter line for a total gain of 55 yards, had passed during the season that he has not caught one or more of the opponent's passes. Teare, playing against the Tars, was almost always good for some gain.

Moritz, a sub for Teare, did excellent work, and for his size, gained a great amount of ground through the Tars' line.

It is not necessary to speak of the line as individuals. It was there on the whole. Every man did his part in holding the Tars' line plunges and it did not take them long to find out that they could gain nothing through the line. It was a fifty per cent better line than the one which held the Florida varsity for one quarter. One or two new men were in it, and the Hatters had plenty of reserves to throw in.

It must be said to the credit of the Tars that they put up a hard fight but were outclassed in every particular. They were supposed to be a great passing machine, but the Hatters outdid them at their own game. As for kicking, there was no comparison. The Hatters never lost ground on a single kick and gained on many.

The star in a ground gaining way for the Tars was Class, who ripped through the Hatter line for two runs of 25 and 35 yards in succession. How he did it is not known, as the line was not penetrated for any other gains during the day. The fact remains that he did it and that it counts. Cotton Thomas played a good game for the Tars and seemed to be the backbone of the Tar backfield. In the line much credit must be given Emory. Although we are not in fain that section of the state. The Hatters had not had much practice and it was not known just what they would do in the first game of the season. The followers of the team who expected them to walk off with an easy victory for the Jacksonville eleven were not disappointed. The Hatter machine had almost no trouble in penetrating the S. A. C. line and scored twenty-one points in the first half. S. A. C. did not threaten. In the second half the Hatter machine decided that it needed a vacation and scored only two more touchdowns. This made the score at the end of the game 34-0. The Springfield Athletic Club did not make a single first down and only came close to doing so one time when Teddie Reed went around the Hatters' end for nine yards. As was the case the entire season the Hatter line was impregnable and on the fourth down the S. A. C. failed to make the required half yard.

Stetson Tackles Southern—

Either this gave the boys too much confidence in their ability, or they underestimated the strength of the Southern College Eleven. They journeyed to Lakeland the following week-end to pay Southern. Every indication pointed to a three-touchdown margin for the Hatter machine. A series of injuries just before the game, some of which were not received on the football field crippled the Hatters. Regardless of this, they were expected to win by anywhere from fourteen to twenty one points. The Hatters kicked off to Southern and the Methodists was close and the referee declared no goal. Whit did not agree with him and an argument ensued. The referee got the best of the argument by putting Whit out of the game. The Southerners took the game by a score of 14-13 and a disheartened bunch returned to DeLand that night.

An Easy One—

The next game on the schedule was with the St. Augustine American Legion in St. Augustine. The Hatters did not expect any trouble from the Sains and they did not have any.

They raced through the Sains' defense almost at will and scored a 54-0 victory. This gave the boys confidence and they returned home determined to wallop Southern by a good margin when they played here the next week.

Southern Defeated—

After much quibbling about the game with the Hatter officials the Southern college eleven decided to play the Hatters here. It seemed from play the Hatters here. It seemed from the first that they were not very anxious to come here to play. Anyway, they showed up, and it looked as if every man was in the pink of condition except Cal Stewart, who was most of the Southern offense. The Hatters were crippled for the game again, just as they had been at Lakeland. Gunby, the center, was out of the game with a broken wrist received in the game at St. Augustine. Bill Gunby took his place in the line-up and played a great game. Ossinsky was still unable to pay much on account of a bad shoulder.

THE DEPARTMENT OF
BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
J. B. STETSON UNIVERSITY

In the last five years a great demand for especially trained men and women along commercial lines has resulted on the colleges and Universities of the country until now we find schools of commerce in most of them and in some complete colleges devoted to that purpose.

Stetson University has not been backward in responding to this great demand and has added, and is adding still, more courses in Business Law, Commerce, Cost Accounting, Banking, Auditing and Income Tax Procedure to meet this demand.

The Business Administration Department has grown in the last 15 years from a small department of 25 or 30 students to which it offered only the elements of accounting and stenography to a present student body of over one hundred and is now offering seven distinct courses among which may be mentioned the following:

1. Elementary Accounting, Short-hand and Typewriting, Cost Accounting, Auditing, Income Tax Procedure, History of Industry and Commerce and Principles of Accounting.

There are three distinct Accounting Courses open to the prospective student as follows:

1. The Elementary Accounting Course.

2. C. P. A. Preparatory Three-Year Course.

3. The four-year course in Business Administration leading to the degree of Ph. B.

The first course mentioned can be easily completed in one year and is meant for those young men and women who for one reason or another are unable to go further and must prepare themselves as soon as possible to obtain a position. Our graduates in this course are fully competent to assume any ordinary accounting work.

The second course is a three-year course designed to fully prepare the student for the C. P. A. examinations when he has qualified to try them. This course does not lead to a degree, but it does give the student an excellent knowledge of the subjects the Public Accountant should know among which may be mentioned such subjects as Cost Accounting, Auditing, Income Tax Work, Contracts, Partnership, Corporations, Principles of Accounting, Sales, Bills and Notes, Bankruptcy, etc.

This course is a very popular one and we have a large number enrolled in this department.

The third and last course offered is the Course in Business Administration leading to the degree of Ph. B. This is a combination of Business Administration, College and Law and is proving popular as the large registration in this department over last year shows. Stetson is peculiarly fortunate in being able to combine such an efficient manner the work of the three departments of the University.

ney went around the right wing for 28 yards and soon after this Whitnell went around the left end for 55 yards and across the goal line, but was called back because of a Stetson man rolling. This ended the first quarter and the Gators sent in the varsity. In the second quarter the Gator varsity was unable to make any consistent gains against the Hatters, and the Hatter backs gained more ground than the Gators. Score at end of first half: Florida, 7; Stetson 0. Lack of reserves crippled the Hatters in the last half and the Gator varsity scored two touchdowns in the last half and the Gator varsity scored two touchdowns in the third quarter. Score at end of third quarter was 20-0 in favor of Gators. In the last quarter the Gator reserves were able to score seven more points, making the score 27-0.

The Hatters were well pleased with the showing which they made against the Gators, and were particularly proud of the second quarter when they fought the Gator varsity to more than a standstill. Captain Goff was out of the game with an injured arm, and Gus Hargreaves at the other end was injured soon after the game started which crippled the Hatter ends. This was the place which they expected to gain around, and they had not done so until Gus was hurt. The loss of the two ends was a severe blow.

The next week a game was played with a bunch of Seabreeze All-Stars but was such a farce that no mention will be made of it. It was played only to keep the boys in condition for their game with Rollins on Thanksgiving.

Mention has already been made of the game with Rollins, so no further mention will be made here.

Following is the result of the season by scores. The game with the Seabreeze All-Stars omitted:

Team	At
Stetson	34
Stetson	13
Stetson	34
Stetson	27
Stetson	0
Stetson	15
Stetson	143

It can be seen from this that the only game which the Hatters lost was the game with the Gators. Only an unfortunate break prevented a score in this game on Whit's long run through the entire Florida team.

The Hatters are proud of this record, and intend to do better next year. The Hatters expect to put up a hard fight against them and hold them to a low score. Naturally Stetson expects to beat Rollins, as this is the game the Hatters fight for every year.

Summary

The team which played Rollins here on Thanksgiving was at least 50 per cent stronger than the team which played Florida on Nov. 10. The Hatters had no reserves to put in against Florida, but the loss of such a valuable man as Captain Goff in the early part of the game against Rollins did not weaken the Hatter machine. The Hatters had plenty of reserves for the Rollins game. As for the one defeat which was handed to the Hatters at Southern, it is just simply impossible to see how it happened. The Hatters had an off day and a bad one.

Individual mention will be given a few of the players. It is impossible to mention all of the men because of lack of space, but it must be said that every man on the Hatter team gave everything he had to the team and worked as hard as he could to make the season a successful one.

Whitnell, playing half back for the Hatters, was a tower of strength throughout the year. Whit not only played half-back, but called the signals for the team throughout the year. It was his headwork which brought the Hatters out of many trying situations. There is possibly no man in the State as fast as Whit in football togs. Certainly we have not seen any. Whit is light, weighing only 155. He did not have great success as a line plunger, but could be depended upon for a few yards at times through the line. His value came in as a passer, kicker, and on end runs. It is hard to find a man in the state that could outpass Whit. Newton of the Gators, probably being the only one. When it came to kicking, it was the same thing. Neither Southern nor Rollins showed anybody to compare with him. While not as sure on his drop kicks, he was fairly reliable. White was a flash on the end runs and could always be depended on.

Probably the most brilliant run of the year on the Hatter gridiron was his 55-yard run through the Gator team. While others may have been longer they were not against the opposition which the Gators furnished. Time after time a swarm of Gators would be around him and it would seem that he was bound to fall, but he kept on. Here's hoping Whit is with us next year.

Teare, playing at fullback, for the Hatters, was always a threat to the opposition. Jack was a former star with the Rollins Tars and was instrumental in handing the Hatters one of the two defeats which the Tars have been able to hand the Hatters in thirteen games; when he was playing with Rollins last year. This year Jack turned the thing around and helped the Hatters in their successful battle against the Tars. Teare is rather light for a fullback, and was not called upon to carry the ball as much as some of the other men. His strength lay on the defense. It was hard for any team to work a successful pass through him and he was also star in the interference.

Courtney from Palm Beach high school, played quarterback. Court was one of the fastest men on the team and as sure tackler. He went by the motto: "The bigger they are the harder they fall." As Ch. Stewart. We did not see Courtney miss a tackle the entire season. Often men would get away and seem to be clear only to have Courtney nail them. In the early part of the season he was not called upon to carry the ball much on account of his size. He was the smallest player that worked with or against the Hatters all year. When he was called upon to carry the ball in the latter part of the season he was not found wanting. After he got started he was very hard to stop and tacklers would slip off him as if he were greased. His greatest strength however, was in defense against the forward pass. It is safe to say that no man broke up more passes than Courtney during the season. Besides breaking them up he intercepted some in every game. His best work along these lines was during the Florida and Rollins games. The two hardest on the schedule. In the Florida game it seemed that Courtney was everywhere the ball went. In the Rollins game he intercepted two passes in critical periods of the game. He was also good on the interference for the other backs.

Oh yes, we are going to get to Covey. Just been thinking how to say what we wanted to about him in a few words. While they are picking their All-Southern teams, it is too bad that some of the minor colleges that are not in the conference cannot have recognition. If this were possible Covey would rate with the best. He was the most consistent player on the Hatter team. Not a game passed that he could not be depended upon for his share and then some, of the work in the backfield. Starting with the first game of the year, when it seemed as if he was used in about three out of every four plays, he has been the boy who was driven in every game from start to finish. If the Hatters needed to ball it never occurred to him that he might not make the distance required. He always made it. Besides this Covey was a good kicker and passer. While he was not called on to punt much, he could have done so if it had been necessary. Covey was an accurate and sure passer and the passes from Covey to Whit were sure ground gainers all year. It was Covey who threw the pass to Goff for the first touchdown against the Tars. Covey could not be beat on the kickoffs. He was also good on placement kicks and drops. His kick against the Rollins Tars from the 30-yard line, and a difficult angle was a beauty. Covey was probably the most dependable man in the line-up.

Captain Goffus on the end, played his usual good game. Although he was handicapped by injuries through the hard games of the season, he was always working hard and no gains were made around his end. He was a sure receiver of forward passes and scored the first touchdown against Rollins.

Gus Hargreaves, on the other end, was consistent throughout the year. Gus played the best game of the year against the Gators in the first half before he was injured. He

FLORIDA STATE BAPTIST CONVENTION

The Florida State Baptist Convention that is now in full blast in our fair city, is the largest gathering of its kind that has ever met here before.

About 1,000 people are here, some of them are leaders of the denomination and prominent in all the Southern states. From all sections of the state the delegates and pastors have come and the three-day session will be packed full of inspiring talks, sermons, addresses and reports.

Below is the program that will be followed:

NEW FRATERNITY ORGANIZED

New York, Dec. 11.—(Secial to The Collegiate)—A new college fraternity, with chapters extending from New Hampshire to Nebraska, and with a membership at the outset of nearly 300 undergraduates, was formed by representatives of college locals at the National Interfraternity conference which ended its sessions here Dec. 1.

The new Greek letter society was tentatively named Phi Kappa Pi. Its chapters will be located at: Penn State, Illinois, Iowa State College, George Washington, Bucknell, New Hampshire, Stevens, Worcester Poly, Davidson, Temple University, Nebraska Wesleyan and the University of Chattanooga.

When organization plans are completed in six months, locals at other colleges and universities may be admitted but, representatives at the Conference decided, applicant locals must be in good financial standing, must possess or lease their own home and have two years' standing as a college fraternal body at an institution of learning at which at least five recognized national fraternities are located.

Formation of Phi Kappa Pi came as the result of a policy laid down early in the year by conference officials to foster establishment of one or more new national fraternities in order to extend to more college men the advantages of a nation-wide Greek letter organization. Delegates from 85 locals throughout the country attended a special meeting held concurrently with Conference sessions.

"As a system, we have been accused of snobbishness, exclusiveness and the desire to be an aristocracy," Chairman John J. Kuhn told them. "The college fraternity system should be big enough so that any worthy student who desires to join a fraternity of national and enduring nature, will not be deprived of the benefits and pleasures our membership gives us, because the fraternities have failed to enlarge their facilities sufficiently."

Nearly 400 fraternity officers and delegates heard Dean Thomas Arkle Clark of the University of Illinois, report that the Ku Klux Klan, "whatever may be said for or against it, is gaining a foothold in our colleges, North and South." Kappa Beta Phi, an organization based on poor scholarship and the discredited "rah-rah spirit", a burlesque of Phi Beta Kappa, is growing with rapid strides, Dean Clark declared.

Recommendations that the Conference establish an annual meeting of professional and honorary fraternities and also specifically define their membership limitations were voted held over for another year's investigation of the subject by a special committee. Several speakers warned that professional fraternities practicing dual membership and the induction of freshmen and sophomores might soon weaken the standing of general fraternities at certain colleges.

The proposal that the Conference recommend to its constituent fraternities the desirability of denying to their undergraduates members to dual membership in such professional organizations was also put aside until next year.

Conspicuous among the results of the Conference was the formation of two permanent bodies—the Interlocal Fraternity conference and the Undergraduate Interfraternity Council Conference—which will meet concurrently with the parent organization next year.

A. Bruce Bielaski, President of Delta Tau Delta and during the war chief of the Bureau of Investigation of the Department of Justice, was elected chairman of the Conference. Other officers elected were: Vice-Chairman, John Patterson, Delta Upsilon, Columbia '92; Secretary, the Rev. Joseph C. Mate, Sigma Chi, Illinois Wesleyan, '90; Treasurer, Dr. Walter H. Conley, Phi Sigma Kappa, Union '91; Educational Adviser, Dean Thomas A. Clark, Alpha Tau Omega, Illinois, '90.

New members of the Executive Committee are: John J. Kuhn, Delta, Chi, Cornell, '98; Dr. H. Sheridan Baketel, eBta Theta Pi, Dartmouth, '95 and ex-Judge William R. Bayes, Phi Delta Theta, Ohio Wesleyan, '01.

During the conference, greetings were received from President Coolidge, a member of Phi Gamma at Amherst; Newton D. Baker, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Col. E. N. House and George Ade.

I. Zangwill, whose remarks sometimes sound as if he were using a comma instead of a period after the initial, strengthens a suspicion pleasant novelist is not necessarily a great statesman. —Washington Star.

Accommodating—

A sudden vacancy occurred in a municipal office through the death of a certain Tom Jones. Disregarding the fact that Jones was not yet buried, an over-eager office seeker approached the Mayor.

"Mr. Mayor," he said breathlessly, "have you any objection to my being put in poor Tom Jones' place?"

"Why no," said the Mayor in disgust. "I have no objection if the undertaker hasn't."

PI KAPPA PHI NOTES

(Ed Henderson and Bob Roden)
After staying with us for a few days, Messrs. Carl and Earnest Dickey continued Saturday on their way to their winter home on Captiva Island which is off the west coast below Fort Myers.

Mr. Chas. T. Henderson and Mr. Kerfoot Bryant journeyed over to Gainesville Friday. Both are applicants for this year's Rhodes scholarship from Florida.

Messrs. Lloyd Layton, Glenn Sundry, George Clark and Joseph Jennings motored to Jacksonville a few days ago and honored the state fair by their presence. They report a very pleasant trip, excepting of course the minute or two necessary in changing four tires; but as Jennings and Sundry slept thru these occasions both say that travelling by motor is wonderful.

If you need some tires changed, apply to A. L. Layton and eGeorge Clark.

Meade Baker certainly di denjoy the trip to Sanford with the Glee Club Thursday evening. But who wouldn't? He says tha tchauffeur-ing for a carload of young ladies can't be beat for pleasantness.

Mr. Mullins, having found an attraction in town, has stopped going to Crescent City for the week-ends.

Mr. Glenn Sundry took a very hurried trip to Tampa Friday, returning all safe and sound.

Mr. Sledge Tatum travelled over to Titusville Thursday on a business trip of pleasure.

Messrs. F. W. Clark, Meade Baker, Sledge Tatum, Glenn Sundry and F. P. McLain were very sleepy Saturday morning, due to some very intense study which was carried on all night Friday.

SUBSCRIPTION CAMPAIGN IS NOW GOING GOOD

The first lap of the Collegiate subscription campaign has been a successful one.

However, the first lap is but a starter. Most of those who subscribed have paid up, and the rest will as soon as convenient for them.

A drive will be made to get subscriptions from the town people this week. Subscription getting will be under way all the week from the many aBaptist delegates at the Convention. And a drive is in motion through the mails to get subscriptions from the alumni.

Are you a subscriber? The Collegiate needs you, and you need the Collegiate. Subscribe to your college paper. Don't only subscribe, but boost it along. Don't voice your criticisms—write them, and please them in the Collegiate box. The paper needs your criticisms and your suggestions.

The goal for subscribers is 1,000. This will mean something to the Collegiate. It will mean something to the University. Each subscription carries the paper along a step nearer the goal. There are over 400 people in the University; there are nearly 2000 old Stetson students who can be reached through the mails; there will be hundreds of Baptist delegates here this week; and in addition to this DeLand and the adjoining little towns, contain many University friends. A goal of 1000 subscribers is not a big one. Subscribe to the Collegiate.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT OF STETSON

In accordance with the decision of the trustees to establish a College of Engineering at Stetson University in 1922, professors were secured to form and build up those various departments that constitute a College of Engineering. The man engaged to take charge of the Electrical department was Roy E. Heffner of Cornell University. Prof. Heffner is a graduate of Oklahoma University and Cornell University, and had three years teaching experience at Cornell University. He, also, had practical experience with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company of Pittsburgh and the New York and Queens Electric Light and Power Company of New York City.

At the beginning of the school year, 1922-23, Prof. Heffner took charge of the department and organized two classes in Electrical Engineering which continued throughout the year. The students were much interested in the courses, but the courses were not the most satisfactory for there was no laboratory in which to demonstrate to the students how the theory was applied. Inspection trips to the Electric plants in DeLand and nearby cities helped the students to understand the manner in which electricity works, but the courses were purely theoretical and the students had difficulty in visualizing certain actions of electricity.

So, from the very beginning, Prof. Heffner laid plans for an Electrical laboratory for Stetson University. By the time of the summer of 1923 the plans were complete and he was enabled to travel among the manufacturers of the north and buy the equipment desired. Now, the department has on hand or will receive within a month's time the equipment which, when installed, will provide an electrical laboratory that Stetson University can justly be proud of. The installation will proceed at once and will be complete before the school year is ended.

The department is located in Science Hall and the Electrical laboratory will be located in the north wing of the basement of that building. The laboratory will include all the principal types of electrical machines and a large assortment of measuring instruments and electrical meters. Both 110 and 220 volt alternating and direct current electricity will be available at various places in the laboratory for experimentation purposes. Some of the apparatus for manipulating the electrical machines in experiment has been purchased, but much of it will be manufactured in the shops of Stetson University and will provide training for the students in that way.

The different fields of Electrical Engineering are so varied that the important thing for the students in Electrical Engineering is to master the fundamental principles of the Science and how to make applications. In the time of a college course in Engineering there is no time to touch upon all fields of application and the student who has mastered the fundamentals will find little difficulty in the application of Electrical Engineering to the specialized field he may enter. So, the courses provided for students in the Electrical department are strong on Electrical principles with enough laboratory and other application to teach them how to apply the theory. Specialized forms of Electrical Engineering will be taken up only on the request from students who are prepared for specialization.

The field of the Electrical Engineer is a very large field and is growing more rapidly now than ever before. The production of Electrical Power is a very large field that is expanding by leaps and bounds. The voltages used have increased until during the spring of 1923 a California power company began using 220,000 volts and the distances which power is transmitted have increased until some places it is hundreds of miles. The Superior System of the Atlantic coast will embody several states, a number of the largest cities of the United States, and about twenty million of our population.

The field of Electrical manufacturing, where electrical equipment is designed and manufactured is a very large field. The field of Electric railways is very important and is growing rapidly. The Automobile industry requires many Electrical Engineers, as well. Ship propulsion is a new, but very important field for the Electrical Engineer. Radio is a very specialized but a prominent field for the Electrical Engineer. The Telephone Engineer is a specialist of the Electrical Engineering tribe. The Illuminating Engineer is another of the Electrical family. In fact, the Electrical Engineering field is one of the newest, but one of the largest and the most rapidly growing field of labor in the world.

Thus, the establishment of an Electrical Department at Stetson University is appropriate with the times and will help keep Stetson abreast with the tide of progress. The department has been established and is rapidly being perfected. It offers a course in Electrical Engineering as good as any given in the Southland. What needs and of itself cannot supply is more students to take the courses offered. In this manner there is much room for expansion and the friends of Stetson can do well to encourage those desiring training in engineering to GO TO STETSON.

BASKETBALL MATERIAL VERY PROMISING

(By Henry Brakmann.)

We surprised the state this year in football—and will do the same in basketball. The State Championship is our goal this year, and with the splendid material, the backing of the school, and the Stetson spirit, we are bound to get it. With at least four of last year's squad back, and about 20 men who rated high on different high schools and colleges throughout the country, Coach Allen has the material to build an unbeatable team. Every man has had at least three years' experience as a first string man on some team before coming here. Though the quintet will be light it will be exceptionally fast, and short passing and accuracy in goal shooting will feature it throughout the year.

The squad has been practicing for about a week now and the men line up as follows: Covington, Culp, Runyon, Hobson and Brakmann are contenders for the forwards; Blakely and Carpenter are evenly matched for the center position, and Tribble, Ossinsky, Teare, Cox, Peterson and Crombie at guards. This is not all the men who have been coming out, but after boiling the pot down they are the probable men for the team.

Looking into the past records of the men mentioned above, we find that Covington played two years in high school, and one year at Citadel, Culp starred for the DeLand high for several seasons and was a letter man on the Hatter quintet the past year;

Runyon was also a letter man on the same squad; Hobson, caupain, played high school basketball and his last year's playing won him the position he now holds. Brakmann has been playing on the Winter Haven five for the past two seasons. Blakely was the fastest center that South Florida has ever known during his high school career, while Carpenter held the same honors in the central part of the state. The former is from Fort Lauderdale, and the latter last played in St. Petersburg. Tribble, besides winning the green S last year, played for several seasons on the Lake City five. Ossinsky is a product of Duval high, and is an experienced man in the game. Teare was the star of the Rollins quintet. He has played for them for three seasons. Cox is another Jacksonville man. Peterson learned his stuff on the Lake Worth high school squad, and Crombie hails from Norwick, N. Y., and played basket ball there for four seasons.

Manager Riette has an excellent schedule under way for the Hatters this year. The main road trip will be to North Carolina, playing three college games and one athletic club. About 15 games will be on the playing card for the season with the majority of them at home. The season will open Friday, the 21st at Cummings gym., with the Seabreeze All-stars. The team has already started practice and a lively evening is promised.

The student body deserves much praise for the way they backed up the football team. Let them do the same in basketball and we will guarantee that about March first the state cup will be in the possession of the Stetson University. We are out to repeat the success of the teams of '20 and '21.

Layton, playing general all-round man, was the same reliable player in every game which he has always been. Satchel is not a spectacular or flashy player, and for this reason does not get a great amount of credit. However, he was very valuable to the Hatters this year. Although strange to the position he played a good game at end against Florida. Against the Tars he played the best game of the year when he took Captain Goof's place. The Tars tried on run-around his end and were thrown for a si-yard loss. They learned not to try it any more.

chine has had since Coach Pug Allen, as he is known to his friends, took hold of the teams.

Pug is well known all over the state, and few men have more friends than he has. He is known all over the South and it is hard to find a town anywhere in the state that does not have a man in it who is Pug's friend.

Pug spent his early athletic days at Porter Military Academy, Charleston, S. C. While the writer was at a boy's camp in North Carolina a few years ago, he had the chance of gaining much information about Pug which as far as is known, has never been published. During competition with another camp, it was the writer's privilege to meet a man who was a teacher at Porter when Pug went there. He told many stories of Pug's prowess on the football field and in track. He said that when Pug first came to Porter that the school had every team in the states the game at St. Augustine. Then Brother Bill took his place and played just as good as Kirk had. Kirk got back in the game against Rollins and played a great game for one half. He was not in good condition and had to go out early in the second half. Then Bill took his place again and played a great game. Bill was in the line-up in the hardest games of the season and deserves a world of credit for stepping into such a responsible position and making a go of it.

Osinsky, at tackle, was injured in the first game of the season and did not play any more until the latter part of the Southern game here. Outside of his playing he was a very valuable man for his advice to the varsity players and the coaching of which kept the varsity on the jump. Ossie got back in with full force in the Florida game and few gains were made over him. He was always encouraging the boys and keeping their pep up. A man who is valuable whether he can play or not.

Doty, at the other end of the tackle, played in every game of the year and did not miss any. He was a former star with the University of Florida. His best game was against the Gators. They hammered him unmercifully in this game, and at last he was injured, but stuck to his post. Before he was injured they could not gain through him. He was a fighter from start to finish.

A number of men worked at the guard post during the season. Tatum playing guard the greater portion of the year, was strong on the defense. He had played the backfield at high school and the line position was rather new to him. Layton, also played guard some of the time. In the final game of the year the Hatters saw two new guards, Skidmore and Silsby. Skidmore is a big 240 pounder and tore the Rollins line to shreds. Silsby, while playing only part of the game was very good on the offense. The Hatters have other men who are worthy of mention, but cannot be spoken of now.

COACH HORACE T. (PUG) ALLEN

This marked the most successful year that the Hatter gridiron ma-of North Carolina and South Carolina and part of Georgia on their schedule in football. That meaning the schools of their class. After a few games in which Pug had torn up every football team which had opposed them, all the schools cancelled their games with Porter and the following season they were unable to schedule games with any team in North or South Carolina.

Pug played one year with Georgia Tech, when they had such men as Strupper and Guyon in the Tech backfield.

Pug is also a star in baseball. While at Porter he signed a contract the Brooklyn Dodgers. They farmed him out to New Orleans. New Orleans traded him to Birmingham. The following year he was sold to Dallas in the Texas league. While belonging to Dallas he played with Beaumont in the same league this year, and hit for an average of .305, which is a good average in the Texas league, as it is considered a pitcher's league.

Besides these athletic abilities he is an excellent golfer, and is considered one of the best golfers among the ball players of the country.

Besides coaching football at Stetson, Pug has charge of basketball and baseball.

PI BETA PHI NOTES

The Pi Beta Phi fraternity is proud to name as new pledges Miss India Hout and Miss Mary Briscoe. Miss Hout is a new student on the campus, having come from Missouri. Miss Mary Briscoe has been taking academy work and has now become eligible for membership into Pi Beta Phi.

Miss Elizabeth Hughes is entertaining a number of her friends to a party at the new tea room at the Oaks. There will be about four tables.

Miss Dorothy Dougless is enjoying a visit from Mr. Ernest Dicky. Mr. Dicky attended Stetson for several years. It seems between the hours of school, recitation, and "Dicky", Dorothy is going to miss her guest, who leaves Saturday.

The president of Pi Beta Phi, Ruby Glen Bennett, visited Miss Evelyn Dorothy Douglass during Thanksgiving of Miss Indig Hout of)!!!!

THE HUMAN MIND. 'H. G.

Auf auf, M. D. F. O. B. We now turn to the question in hand. Is there such a thing as the human mind? This query has come to us through the ages. Philosophers, poets, dramatists, machinists, optimists, and dentists have struggled in vain to answer it. Is the human mind, so-called, merely a conglomerate of disassociated thermodynamic, centrifugal dispositions, or is it really a premeditated inorganic interdenominational neuron? As that great French writer and thinker has so ably put it, "dans tous les maisons il y a toujours les fenetres." This is the thing where we can get at it from an analytic viewpoint. But on the other hand, there is Don Marica, the well known Spanish psychologist who says: "Carramba much torador chile con carne vamos pronto." This is clear enough, but it is pretty much the same thing as we have suggested above. We fear, however, that our German colleague, Herr Tonich, has somewhat strayed from the beaten path when he says, "Sch weiss night was Barbarekenstaaten oder ung-unfahigkeit oder eben Bermenschilchen." This theory is absolutely untenable on the grounds that the human mind is a vague undecipherable something that cannot be unravelled. We have now reached a point where the discussion is practically ended and we sincerely trust that the student has a clearer conception of the problem before us. It still may be considered an open question.

THE OLD, OLD OLD STORY

F. F. F.
On my exams I see,
And I would that my tongue dare utter
The thoughts that arise in me.

Oh, well for that Sig lad
Who never gets less than a "B".
Oh, well for the brilliant grad
Who always an "A" can see.

But every quiz comes back
With only an "F" for me,
How I wish for the brains of that frat lad
Or the graduate's brilliancy.

LOTUS LEAVES

In lotus leaves tradition says we find
The essence of the future, fairest dreams,
From which the maze of sorrows
are untwined,
And cold what—is is changed into what-seems.

O, let us sip this cup of nectar rare,
And in our day-dreams revel for awhile.
Avaunt, ye miseries and carping care,
And let the lure of hope our hearts beguile!

The petals of the Past have drifted on,
The victims of the zephyr's idle
play;
The Present we care not to look up-
on,
And view the load of troubles of today.

Aye, pass the cup and let us deeply quaff
The mystic, subtle antidote of grief,
And gain the power to hope and love and laugh

From the neptunes of the lotus leaf.
Let sir-castles our fairy mansions be,
And lift the burdens of the heart
that grieves;

For what is life to humble folk like me
Without the solace sweet of lotus leaves?

CAMPUS GOSSIP

Exams are over thank goodness, and everybody is waiting for the much looked forward to Xmas vacation.

Basketball is now with us. We are hoping that the king of the winter pastimes will leave us with as good record as did old man football. I wonder why the new club that has been organized has such a large enrolment? The club is called the Woman Proof Club. I am wondering if their enrollment will have increase or decrease this time next week.

These cold days are getting tiresome, are they not? For further information ask the ones who have a first class and go to it.

The Stetson Glee Club made a hit in the Celery City, according to those who heard it.

Welcome to our fair city and the only school in the world, friend Baptists. May your stay be long and joyous, and don't forget that the trains run within three miles of the city. Come again!

It sure does seem good not to have to get up so early in the morning. The students are taking advantage of the privilege and we find that there is not as many first class cuts or so many unprepared lessons.

Not much trade for Conrad's Open Air Garage nowadays. I guess the mechanics have gone on a strike. Oh yes, a wire has reached Manager Lambert that he has been sold out right to the San Francisco Seals. Lambert thinks that a great injury has been done to him and will proceed to bring the matter up before Judge Huntley, the manhandler of all such affairs. We are sure that under the care of his honor Lambert will get a good deal.

STETSON ART STUDIO

Right now would be the very best time to take a look in at the studio. Yes, better see it now, as many of the beautiful things now on exhibition there will be taken away. This invitation is only extended to those who wish to come. Remember there is no compulsion about it, in fact we would much prefer all the others to stay out. Remember this is the week, so come now.
